To Whom It May Concern,

This letter serves as my cover letter in applying for the position of "Mathematics Teacher", as found on www.indeed.com.

After receiving my Masters Degree in Mathematics, I have worked mostly in the educational field as a University Professor and College Instructor. I worked professionally as a tutor for many years before completing my education, and have been privately tutoring select clients for the past 20 years. I became certified in Online Learning and Teaching from my former employer back when life seemed more normal. The COVID-19 situation radically changed the working environment, and all of the reasons that I enjoyed being a full-time College Mathematics Instructor completely vanished. I decided to sign up for the Data Science Professional Certification program through HarvardX, just to expand my credentials and to demonstrate my technical abilities as a programmer. I was about 2/3 of the way thorough the program when a hostile working environment inspired me to resign from teaching and focus on my coursework full time. I completed the certification in November of 2021, and am currently looking for work while I build my dream off-grid home in Northern New Mexico. There is no time like the present to do what you have always wanted. I currently have one regular weekly tutoring appointment with a retired database programmer where we are studying Abstract Algebra and Group Theory at his pace since he is not enrolled in any courses.

I look forward to arranging an interview if possible. I live in Northern New Mexico, so a remote interview of some kind would be preferred. Thank you for taking the time to look over my credentials and consider my candidacy.

Sincerely,

Kaylee Robert Tejada
